TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
The time has arrived when persons who owe little must pay them or lose their credit. Do not take offense when you receive our notice, but if you are unable to pay do not make some arrangement with the party you owe towards a settlement.

What we want is protection for our merchants against the class of persons who can, but will not, pay their bills. These persons who have failed to make any arrangement for settling their bills after having been properly notified, will be reported to the members of the Merchants' Mutual Protective Union (Incorporated) for their consideration.

This association of merchants, bankers, doctors, lawyers and all other business men, will have members who will be in the line of names of persons who have failed to settle or make arrangement therefor. In this list of names, the name of the merchant who has failed to settle or make arrangement therefor, will be placed in the list of names of persons who have failed to settle or make arrangement therefor.

APPROVES THE STRINGENCY OF THE TIMES.

In these times of the apparent insecurity of many enterprises, the shrewd and conservative investor is very apt to turn to life insurance as the best of all safe investments. Here are a few of the advantages:

You pay in small installments. You run no risks.

You get from 1 to 5 per cent. compound interest. You secure protection.

Your heirs receive the amount of your policy should you die and you receive nearly as much again as you pay in should you live until it matures.

You also receive this money when you may want it most—in your declining years.

Why hesitate about making such a safe, sensible and profitable investment? You cannot get a better with your money. Have your life insured.

GOVERNMENT GOSSIP.

INDIAN AGENT APPOINTED.—

The President has appointed Edward T. Lamont an Indian agent at Grand Ronde, Ore.

MR. WANAMAKER GOES HOME.—Postmaster General Wanamaker left Washington for Philadelphia, this afternoon, to spend Thanksgiving Day.

THE PRESIDENT'S CALLERS.—Among the callers at the White House to-day were Senator Cullom, Senator Spooner, Secretary Tracy and Speaker Reed.

ELECTRIC PLANT AT NORFOLK.—Lieutenant A. B. Wyckoff has returned to the Department from a visit to the Norfolk Navy Yard in regard to the establishment of an electric light plant. Lieutenant Wyckoff is now engaged in preparing the specifications for the work.

APPROVED BY MR. WISDOM.—The Secretary of the Treasury has approved the bill for the first payment on the armored cruiser No. 2, now in course of construction at Cramp's yards in Philadelphia. The amount of the payment is $89,400, which is just one-third of the cost of the vessel.

THE INDIAN SCARE NEARLY OVER.—A telegram has been received by the War Department from General Brooke, stating that the Cheyenne River Indians have discontinued their war dances. From all other points reports of an encouraging character are being received, so that the Government believes that the Indian troubles are fast nearing a pacific end.

MODEL DECORATIONS.—The models of the cruisers Baltimore, Charleston, Maine and New York, which have stood in the corridor in front of the office of the Secretary of the Navy for some months past, will be missing from their accustomed place during the next few days. They were taken over to the White House to-day and will be used among the decorations upon the evening of the banquet to the Brazilian naval officers.

NAVY DEPARTMENT NOTES.—Fleets Assistant Surgeon Francis S. Nash has resigned, to take effect November 23.

He has been granted leave of absence from the department until that date. Assistant Engineer William Stuart Smith, retired, has been granted leave of absence for two years with permission to leave the United States.

Mr. Adams has been informed by the Commandant of the Norfolk Navy Yard that the Petrel has left the yard to take in powder.

INSPECTION OF CATTLE.—A recent bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture states that during the past few days agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry have inspected for export 9,967 head of cattle. The ports at which the inspections were made were Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans.

The largest number being shipped from Boston. Each animal is tagged before shipment, so that should the inspectors on the other side find any animal suffering from contagious disease, by means of its tag it could be traced by the authorities here to the very herd from which it originally came, and examination would then be made as to the cause of the disease.

The destination of the cattle thus inspected were: Glasgow, 629 head; Liverpool, 3,397 head; London, 1,390 head; Havre, 955 head; Marseilles, 359 head.

HAPPY CLERKS.—The clerks in the Department are happy for their Thanksgiving holiday commenced early in the day and they have this afternoon all to themselves. At the Agricultural and Treasury Departments all work was stopped at noon, and the clerks were not resumed until Friday morning.

The War, State and Navy Departments kept open until 1 o'clock, then they too, were closed, and the clerks, with their pens with a sigh of relief, went their ways rejoicing. A spirit of merriment had pervaded all the Departments during the morning, nearly every one waiting to tell his neighbor how he could have a good time on the morrow, and many Government shooting parties will take a run down in Virginia for a day's hunting, and all expect to enjoy the day thoroughly. The holiday of the employees of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing began last night.

BOARD OF VISITORS' REPORT.—The Board of Visitors to the United States Military Academy has submitted to the Secretary of War its annual report as to the needs of the academy. A number of recommendations are contained in the report, which are being considered by the Secretary.

The case of William Northridge and Joseph Acker, charged with keeping an unlicensed bar, was held for trial.

The case of James Edmondson, charged with violating the Police regulations, was remanded to the Police Court.

James D. Donnelly pleaded guilty to the charge of keeping an unlicensed bar, and his attorney, Mr. C. H. Dwyer, asked the court to dismiss the charge.

Thomas Dwyer pleaded guilty to the charge of keeping an unlicensed bar and sentence was suspended.

number at 500,000, and still others at a number of 1,000,000. All these reports, all conflicting and made by parties more or less interested, induced Congress to send Professor Elliott to Alaska waters, and his report that not over 100,000 have survived the war of extermination will, it is believed, call a halt to their destruction, and his recommendation that the catch be suspended for seven years will doubtless be acquiesced in by Congress.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOBBY.

His Idea of What the Republican Policy Should Be Next Session.

New York, Nov. 26.—According to a Washington special, the Evening Post, the Cabinet meeting yesterday devoted a good deal of attention to the discussion of Secretary Windom's interconvertible bond scheme. The President is doubtful of the wisdom of setting forth any new ideas to distract the minds of Congress from the work laid out for it.

"On the merits of the bond plan itself," says the correspondent, "he has no criticism to pass, but his notion of the policy that should be pursued is to have Congress pick up the programme of Republican legislation which it decided upon last session and push it through just as if there had been no elections and no overwhelming defeat. So strongly has this hobby seized his mind that it is more than possible he will dissuade the Secretary from introducing his bond plan this session."

"It is now very well settled that, if he does not succeed in keeping that plan out of the Secretary's report, he will at least ignore it in his message, and trust to the falling of it."

"The President's message will be sent out to the various cities in advance of its transmission to Congress and be held in the custody of postmasters or other Federal officers till delivered into the hands of clerks of the two Houses on Monday. It will then be released by wire and given to the newspapers forthwith."

"The report of the Secretary of the Treasury will not be given to the press till Tuesday, as at present planned. It will probably reach cities as near as New York in printed form, but as it is not even made up into pages, the Public Printer doubts whether he can get it out in time to go to more distant points except by wire."

PRESIDENT ADAMS RESIGNS.

He No Longer Controls the Great Union Pacific Railroad.

Des Moines, Nov. 26.—President Adams of the Union Pacific road today resigned the presidency, and is announcing it said:

"As you are aware, changes have taken place in the ownership of the company's stock. Interests with which I have never been in sympathy and whose confidence I fail to command have become the leading factors in the management of the road. I have been rendered false and embarrassed."

Headed that the continuance of such a state of affairs was detrimental to the interests of the company, which should be controlled by one who represented its whole ownership and could speak authoritatively of its policy. He then thanked the directors for the honor they had conferred upon him previously.

Following Mr. Adams' resignation, Directors F. L. Ames, F. Gordon Dexter and Government Director Balch made brief addresses approving the resignation of Mr. Adams.

Measures Ames and Balch were appointed a committee to draft appropriate resolutions.

The resignation of Messrs. Charles Francis Adams, John P. Spaulding, James A. Russell and Samuel Gould, Jr., were accepted, and Mr. Jay Gould, Russell Sage, H. B. Hyde and A. E. Orr were elected directors and took seats at the board.

Mr. Sidney Dillon, already a director, was elected president. It is understood that Mr. Orr represents the David Dows estate and Mr. Hyde the Equitable Life Assurance Company, which is a large holder of the company's securities.

The Union Pacific executive committee adjourned without transacting any business of public interest. President Dillon is now in charge of the road.
